EDUCATION

AND RIGHTS

ENVIRONMENT

Areas of Focus

HEALTH

One of Indian Centre for Development Right key operational areas is promoting education, in rural areas where resources are limited. A good education system lays a strong foundation, which helps with an overall development of our next generation of youth who play a key role in facilitating growth of our country and our future. In order to make that possible, in the near future we plan on adopting a school and equipping them with resources and creating an education system model, that can be replicated. To promote Education iCFDR run it's owned Project named EASY CLASSES

EDUCATION

We at ICFDR believe even to address issues related with healthcare, poverty, unemployment or human rights, we need to start with Education.

One of a good indicator to measure a country's development is its literacy rate. Although India seems to have made progress in the last decade from 65.38% in 2001 to 74.04% in 2011 in its literacy rates a 9% increase; it appears that the rural areas still tend to be far behind. It could be attributed mainly to poverty, lack of support from the government, as well as lack of priority of education by the care-takers that are raising the youth. In order for all that to change we at iCFDR would like to provide aid to schools in rural areas by helping them with basic infrastructure for schools, equipping schools with good teachers, addition of libraries, computer labs, extracurricular activities (sports, music, sewing, arts), providing electricity using alternative energy. We also plan to collaborate with other NGO's that share our vision and are already working on meeting similar educational needs in certain rural areas but are looking for additional help and support.

India is still home to 17 million child laborers the highest in the world and we at iCFDR believe that poverty, lack of literacy, and lack of importance to education plays a big role in that. In order to strive for a better society we have to begin by changing those variables and creating a generation of youth that continues to take strides in the positive direction.

EMPOWERMENT AND RIGHTS

At iCFDR we think that equality in all walks of life is one of the indispensable factors to development. In order to actualize that thought we want to start by spreading awareness through lectures, workshops and seminars related to human rights, legal rights and right to information.

We look forward to organizing campaigns for raising legal awareness, to help the marginalized sections of the society to better understand their rights and responsibilities. We believe that the key components of basic human rights are equality of gender, female empowerment, child rights, labor rights, welfare of children from vulnerable groups, community empowerment etc.

In order to actualize that thought we want to start by spreading awareness through lectures, workshops and seminars related to human and legal rights. We look forward to organizing campaigns for raising legal awareness, to help the marginalized and oppressed sections of the society to better understand their rights and responsibilities. We believe that the key components of basic human rights are equality of gender, female empowerment, child rights, labor rights, welfare of children from vulnerable groups, community empowerment etc.

We believe that change not only comes from educating and spreading awareness but also from creating an environment where people can have courage to come forward by holding people accountable for their misdoings. We are also working on governance issues and use of Right to Information (RTI) to improve governance.

Given the current state of affairs we also want to focus on women's safety issues, helping women and children who have been victims of sexual abuse and trafficking, providing aid and support to women suffering from domestic violence and dowry, shelter services for destitute women and children etc.

We also plan to collaborate with other organizations that share similar vision as us, that we can support and vice versa.

ENVIRONMENT

iCFDR toils to preserve and improve ecology, so that we and our future generation have chance to experience the magnanimous nature. We work for protection of green cover, spread awareness about global warming, de-forestation, soil erosion, river ecology conservation, animal rights etc.

We also like to promote use of alternate fuels, reusable materials and any such environmental friendly materials. We to plan encourage recycling, proper disposal hazardous products and material. It focuses to encourage alternative sources of electric power and energy. iCFDR creates awareness about pollution control and initiate measures for the same. We at iCFDR aspire to have an overall development with concern for environment.

We are working toward the aim of promoting Environmental Awareness, the nature is the real Earth's Heritage. Welfare of our Earth, its nature and animals is tied up with preservation and Local Community participation is a essential. The air is scarcely breathable, fresh water bodies are choked, trees are cut in the name of development, animal habitats are disturbed on daily basis and jungles are fast disappearing. We work for the concept of Sustainable Development. iCFDR focuses on providing assistance, legal advice and aid for confronting environmental problems. We aspire to involve everyone in the contributing to the betterment of the environment. We work towards creating environmental awareness and raising funds for conservation and other related projects. We work in the field of animal welfare and environment protection.

HEALTH

ICFDR promotes health awareness through campaigns, awareness programs and camps. In future, we also plan to establish health centers, ambulance services in under developed areas to increase medical aid on regular basis.
